

ENVIR CON

March 26, 2021

Call for Abstracts

The Centre for Environment and Sustainability (CES) invites graduate students to submit abstracts for oral presentations (12 mins) and speed talks (5 mins) on research related to environment and sustainability for this year's EnviroCon research conference at the University of Western Ontario.

There are no fees associated with this event.

The EnviroCon research conference will include an expert panel discussion on the fate and transport of plastics in the environment, as well as graduate student talks and poster presentations.

We highly encourage applicants from all disciplines conducting research on topics related to environment and sustainability. Topics presented in the past have included:

- Biodiversity
- Environmental education and policy
- Nutrient loading and algal blooms
- Urbanization and transportation
- Environmental engineering
- Renewable energy

Submission format:

You will be required to fill out a Google Form including an abstract (max 300 words) outlining your presentation or poster topic.

Please use our abstract submission form

Submission Deadline: February 26, 2021 @ 5:00pm EST

Successful applicants will be notified by March 5, 2021

<https://www.uwo.ca/enviro/envirocon/index.html>

 www.facebook.com/EnvironmentandSustainabilityUWO

 @WesternU_CES

Western

The Centre for Environment
& Sustainability