

ENVIR CON

March 25, 2022

Call for Abstracts

The Centre for Environment and Sustainability (CES) invites graduate students to submit abstracts for traditional oral presentations (12 mins) or speed talks (3 mins) on research related to environment and sustainability for this year's EnviroCon virtual research conference at the University of Western Ontario. There are no fees associated with this event.

The EnviroCon research conference will include an expert panel discussion on Indigenous perspectives on sustainability, as well as graduate student talks and poster presentations on various topics.

We highly encourage applicants from all disciplines conducting research on topics related to environment and sustainability, including:

- Indigenous Studies
- Biology
- Education
- Geography
- Geology
- Environmental Engineering
- Climate Science
- Political Science

Submission format:

Abstracts (max 300 words) should be submitted here. Please direct any questions to uwoenvirocon@gmail.com

Submission Deadline Extended: March 4, 2022 @ 11:59pm EST

Successful applicants will be notified by March 11, 2022

<https://www.uwo.ca/enviro/envirocon/index.html>

 www.facebook.com/EnvironmentandSustainabilityUWO

 @WesternU_CES

Western

The Centre for Environment
& Sustainability